2015 UIPM CHAMPION OF CHAMPIONS: A PRESTIGIOUS COMPETITION IN DOHA

DOHA, QATAR - Leading pentathletes from across the world have gathered in Doha, Qatar to battle for the prestigious title of UIPM 2015 Champion of Champions.

With the 2016 Olympic Games now very much on the horizon, the 2015 elite season comes to an end with a high-class competition between 36 invited athletes from 17 countries in one of Modern Pentathlon's newest and most exciting venues.

Champion of Champions was inaugurated in Sicily, Italy, in 2011 and earlier this year UIPM signed a deal for the Qatar Olympic Committee and Qatar Modern Pentathlon Federation to host the next three editions in 2015, 2016 and 2017.

This year's instalment, staged at the QF Al Shaqab and Recreation Center, begins with a Women's Individual event (Nov 27) followed by the Men's Individual competition (Nov 28).

The favourite for the men's gold medal will be World No.2 Riccardo de Luca (Italy), who won the 2015 UIPM World Cup series, although he is sure to face stiff competition. European champion Arthur Lanigan-O'Keeffe (Ireland) also lines up in Doha, as are top-10-ranked athletes Amro El Geziry (Egypt), Charles Fernandez (Guatemala) and Woongtae Jun, who leads a three-strong Korean team.

In the women's event, the highest-ranked competitor is world No.6 Chloe Esposito (Australia) and she will find high-class competition coming from all continents. Her rivals for the podium in Doha will include Melanie McCann (Canada), Tamara Vega (Mexico), Anastasiya Prokopenko (Belarus) and Leidis Laura Moya (Cuba), while Haydy Morsy (Egypt) is one of the most exciting youngsters in the sport aged 16.
